"A TRAMP ABROAD."

The Walking Journalist Reaches the Jaw.—An Unlimited "Tie-Case."

Edward Holmes, the man whose remarkable pedestrian feat, has furnished food for many a newspaper article, reached Moose Jaw on Monday evening. He was pegging along at a very tidy pace. A number of citizens met him at the station and extended to him the freedom of the city. His intention was to push ahead on the morrow but he was persuaded to remain in town over Tuesday.

Mr. Holmes is a typical Englishman of thirty years or thereabouts. This is not by any means his first long tramp as he has walked from coast to coast in Central America and has also travelled afoot through Japan. The notion of tramping across the country originated last winter. Mr. Holmes met Mr. Van Home at a ball in Montreal, and in conversation the idea suggested itself. September 5th was the day set on which he was to reach the coast. Thus far the rate at which he has travelled is simply astounding as he has covered over 1700 miles and is thirteen days ahead of time.

In disposition Boojum, his faithful travelling companion, is the counterpart of his master. Instead of being modest and unassuming, this dog thinks he was every town in which he and his master stop. Of course other dogs congregate to view the canine who has travelled so far on the railway ties, and things generally end in a scrap. Boojum was asserting himself rather too strongly at a point down the line and a collie promptly took him by the neck and shook him gently, leaving a nice little gash as a souvenir. He pursued the same tactics in Moose Jaw and tried to run a bluff on one of our town dogs who promptly called him down, for he was beginning to get personal. When it came to a showdown Boojum's old wound was bleeding badly.

Holmes is dressed in the conventional dress of the English tourist. His boots were made specially for the tramp by a Montreal house. They were half-soled in Brandon. Mr. Holmes has a medium sized travelling bag which he sends ahead of him on the train.

Despite the fact that Mr. Holmes has studied minutely the habits and customs of nearly every people under the sun, and has received that education which travel alone can give, he carries it all very unassumingly and does not thrust his individuality upon one. He is a capital story-teller and spins many an interesting yarn of happenings along the road. While in Moose Jaw he rowed up the river and expressed himself as delighted with the scenery, and the picturesque appearance of the town. He continued his march on Wednesday, intending to reach Parkburg by Wednesday night.

Free Masonry in Quebec.

A lengthy appreciative "review" of "Outlines of the History of Free-masonry in the Province of Quebec," (1608 to 1892), has appeared in leading Masonic and secular journals both in the old world and in the new. The following are extracts:

"Chapter II, headed 'Canadian Historic Memorabilia,' describes when the earliest towns and stations were founded, and traces in a clearer and more popular form than has hitherto appeared in any publication with which I am acquainted, the frequent alterations which were made in the political divisions of British North America."

"The items of information which the Quebec historian Bro. J. H. Graham, of Richmond, Que., has so laboriously acquired, are packed into such a limited space, especially the subject matter of chapter IV, that no single review, or less, indeed, it were granted a monopoly of an entire part or number of these 'Transactions,' could do the barest justice to them. It must suffice, therefore, to mention at this stage, that the additional facts published by the historian, both with regard to regimental or travelling lodges, and the earliest stationary lodges in the original British province of Quebec [1759-91] will be found to be of the highest value to all students of the craft."

"As an administrator, P. G. M. Graham's services has been pre-eminent in the jurisdiction of Quebec, and there is probably no other case on record, where it has fallen to the lot of one and the same Brother to attain such marked distinction, both as the Grand Master and the Historian of his Grand Lodge."

DEATH BY DROWNING.

Louis Abbey Meets His Death While Attempting to Ford the River.

On Tuesday evening about 8 o'clock the news spread like wild fire through the town that Louis Abbey was drowned. In less time than it takes to tell it excited citizens, some in carriages but more on foot, were seen hastening to the spot. Men in boats were soon in mid stream trying to find the body with poles, while a number of men stripped and dived after it. This work was kept up for some time, until Mr. Brooks shouted that he had found him. The corpse was lying in about seven feet of water. With the assistance of the boats it was hauled ashore and taken to the residence on High Street.

Mr. Abbey was employed in A. Hitchcock's electric light works and was one of the best engineers and machinists in the North-West. It is supposed that he was attempting to ford the river and get beyond his depth. Some boys witnessed the drowning and threw out a rope to him but he was too far gone to grasp it and went down before their eyes. When the body was recovered it was deemed useless to attempt resuscitation as an hour had elapsed after the alarm was given.

THE LAST SAD RITES.

The funeral service took place at the residence yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The service was conducted by Rev. W. L. Clay, assisted by Rev. F. B. Stacey. The service started with the hymn "My Times Are in Thy Hand," after which portions of scripture were read by Rev. W. L. Clay. Prayer was then offered by Rev. Mr. Stacey. Rev. Mr. Clay then addressed to the congregation some earnest words of exhortation and to the bereaved many expressions of sympathy and comfort.

The members of local Orange lodges were present in full regalia. On the coffin was a beautiful wreath of flowers the work of a number of ladies. Among the other floral tributes were a five pointed star, emblematic of the order to which the deceased belonged, the gift of Mrs. Wm. Hannah; a large harp from Mrs. J. Wilson; a nest cross from Mrs. C. A. Gass; and a lovely anchor from Mrs. Cullen.

THE FUNERAL PROCESSION.

was one of the largest ever seen in Moose Jaw, when the cortege arrived at the grave a short service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Clay, after which the beautiful and impressive burial service of the Orange Order was read by W. M. C. A. Gass. When the ceremony was concluded the brethren marched back to their lodge room.

Speaker Ross returned from Indian Head on Wednesday evening's train.

It is currently reported that A. LeDien has left town owing sundry little accounts. Quite a number of young men have taken Home Grey's advice this summer.

The Coming Shows.

(ADVT.)

From all accounts Sanger & Lent have reached the summit in attraction and have an exhibition without a peer on either continent. Among the many wonders there is one in particular worthy of special mention, the baby elephants. These are the first ever known to have been given birth in the United States. Efforts have been and are yet being made in the Zoological Gardens of Europe to propagate the elephant, without success, however, as the Pachyderm has never before been known to breed in captivity. They nest in the most inaccessible recesses of the jungles. While it is comparatively easy to trap, or with the aid of a decoy elephant, procure a full grown beast the attempt to get a baby is attended with extreme danger, as frequently a whole herd of elephants is sacrificed by the hunters in obtaining a baby as the elephant will fight to the death in protection of their young. Consequently the baby elephant is of more value than thirty full grown ones in either European America. The big show will be at Moose Jaw on Wednesday July 26th.

"Not clinging to some ancient saw,
Not mired by some modern term,
Not swift nor slow to change, but firm."

FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1893.

A Manitoba farmer, who resides near the boundary line on the Canadian side, states that his taxes last year on a quarter section farm amounted to $3.50 (there being no school taxes as yet), while just across the line a friend of his had to pay $70 on his farm and effects, even his watch and sewing machine being taxed.

"This paper," says the Lethbridge News, "has one subscriber who, every time he gets on a spree, insists on paying a year's subscription. He has already paid for his paper to January 1st 1937. We are making an effort to ascertain what brand of whiskey he drinks, in order that it may be more generally placed on the market. Of course, total abstinents cannot be reached by that agency, but good people always pay in advance."

An exchange gives a list of nine classes of people that do a town no good. First, those who go out of town to do their trading. Second, those opposing amusement. Third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business. Fourth, those who imagine they own the town. Fifth, those who think business can be done solely without advertising. Sixth, those who deride public spirited men. Seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves. Eighth, those who oppose every spirited enterprise that does not appear to benefit them. Ninth, those who seek to injure the credit of an individual.

Gladstone has withdrawn "In and out" subsection of clause nine, which provided that the Irish members of the Imperial Parliament should not be entitled to deliberate or vote on any bill or motion, the operation of which is confined to Great Britain or some part thereof, or any motion or resolution relating solely to some tax not raised or to be raised in Ireland; or on any vote or appropriation of money made exclusively for some service not mentioned in the schedule of the act covering the Imperial liabilities, expenditures and miscellaneous revenues, any motion or resolution exclusively affecting Great Britain or some part thereof, or some local authority, or some person or thing therein, or any motion or resolution incidental to any such motion or resolution, as either of the last mentioned or that relates solely to some tax raised in England or incidental to such vote or appropriation of money as above mentioned. By the withdrawal of this subsection the eighty Irish members to be retained in the Imperial Parliament will have rights fully equal to those given to the British members.

On the Warimoo, which has just arrived at Vancouver, there was a consignment of rice from Honolulu to Portland, Oregon. To a San Francisco reporter a member of the firm making the consignment thus delivered himself:

"This shipment is merely the opening wedge of an effort to take from San Francisco a large part of her commerce. The Canadian Pacific Railway must build up business for its line and its steamship company has made concession to many firms that are far beyond any that can be obtained from an American transportation company. My firm ships yearly to San Francisco 125,000 bags of rice, and it has been distributed from that centre. The Canadian Pacific company has offered me through bills of lading to any point to which I may desire to ship, at rates that are much lower than those granted by the Southern Pacific company. On July 1 we will ship, from 4,000 to 5,000 bags a month on the Canadian steamships. The new company does not stop here; it has made overtures to other firms here and will ship to them goods bought direct from the manufacturers, which have heretofore been purchased in San Francisco."

FIRST IN TRADE.

British supremacy in trade and commerce is most impressively shown in the statement of vessels passing through the Suez Canal. It was shown, recently that the number of vessels that passed through the canal in 1892 was 3,553; of these 2,581 were British leaving for the rest of the world 978—that is, nearly four times as many vessels flying the British flag passed through the canal as there were of all other nationalities together. Here is the statement:

British	2581
German	292
Dutch	177
French	174
Italian	74
Norwegian	68
Austro-Hungarian	61
Ottoman	43
Spanish	26
Portuguese	23
Russian	22
Greek	6
Belgian	4
Japanese	3
American	2
Chinese	2
Egyptian	2
Siamese	1

The French were the leading promoters of the Suez canal project, but as the above statement shows France among the users of the Canal a bad fourth, the Canal being little other than a British waterway. This fact largely accounts for the determination of our Imperial Government to retain its ascendancy over the Egyptian Territory through which the canal runs.

ESSENTIALS TO SUCCESS.

In most cases success or failure depends on the man. Sometimes good men fail, not on account of lack of business ability, but from circumstances they could not see or control. But if failures of this kind were the only ones, the number would be comparatively few. The greater number of failures among merchants is the result of a lack of someone or more of the essential elements of which success depends.

What are some of these essential elements?

- (1) To understand one's business; to know when, where and how to buy goods.
 - (2) To know one's customers; to understand their tastes, peculiarities and characteristics.
 - (3) Politeness, equability of temper, decision and firmness.
 - (4) The ability to refuse a request without making an enemy. This is harder to do than most people think.
- A man may be honest, intelligent, have a fair business education, possess sufficient capital and all that, and yet not be able to win and hold desirable trade simply because he lacks politeness, or has an unpleasant manner; or, if polite enough, he may lack decision and firmness, and so make too many bad accounts. A brusque and abrupt manner in refusing credit to some customers often loses the merchant the cash trade of those same persons, whereas it might be retained by a polite and diplomatic refusal. One must have tact in business.

There are many persons who, while they have no legal responsibility, are nevertheless honest and worthy of credit to a reasonable amount. Such customers are often better payers than others who own property and from whom an account may be collected by law. It is not a bad plan to give persons of this class a trial, limiting the line of credit to an amount within their respective capacities, and then if they do not pay according to contract withhold further credit. In many places the bulk of one's patronage comes from poor people, who have nothing to depend upon but their earnings. Knowing that their credit depends upon maintaining it, they are likely to pay with reasonable promptness. Since a strictly cash system is, in most places, impracticable, one is forced to adopt the credit system, but let it be discriminative and judicious.

Liberal-Conservative Convention.

To the editor of THE TIMES.

DEAR SIR:—
Many of the young men allied with the Conservative party have for some time felt the need of better organization among themselves and have also felt that it would be a benefit to them and their party if they could meet and discuss national questions, affecting every resident in Canada. To gain this end it was suggested some time ago that a convention of young men from all over Canada be held when discussion might ensue and a basis arrived at on which all young men of our magnificent Dominion could agree, and thus build up a national organization in the broadest use of the term. In accordance with these views a meeting will be held in Toronto on Sept 13 and 14 of representative young men from one end of Canada to the other for the purpose of forming a Dominion Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association and to pave the way for a grand National Convention in 1894. The Winnipeg Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Association of which I have the honor to be secretary has taken a great interest in this movement and have been asked to look after the country between the great lakes and the coast. It will hardly be possible to form Young Men's Associations in all the smaller towns throughout this country, but if any one who is thinking of going east will bear the date of Convention in mind and make arrangements to be there we are sure it will be profitable to himself and help to us. I will be glad to give you any information possible regarding rates, etc. Thanking you Mr. Editor for this valuable space,

I am,
Yours truly,
J. A. Magie
Secy. Young Men's Conservative Assn.

The All-round Genius.

Using the wonders of the deep, where monster serpents swim and creep, where billows high and awful sweep; but I have never seen the sea.
I tell of wild and awful deeds of men who fight for heathen creeds, and trumpet forth the heathen needs, but little do they worry me.
I make the blood within you boil by writing of the crimsoned soil where soldiers meet in mad turmoil but I would dodge an empty gun.
I prove that death is but repose, this fift' fester's gentle close, but when my stomach painful grows I seek the doctor on the roe.
I praise the poor man's homespun coat and grasp the wealthy lord's throat; but when the lord's

I preach at length of wedded bliss, the witty smile, the husband's kiss; and, tell me, is there aught amiss, that I'm applying for divorce?
The farmer's colt and calf and lamb in mellow verse I do embalm, nor does it hurt my little psalm that I despise the rural sod.
In fact, I write on every theme from added egg to frozen cream, and people really do not seem to know a genius from a fraud.

REGINA PRESBYTERY.

Meeting in Qu'Appelle on July 12th.—Large and Representative Gathering of Ministers and Students.

The Presbytery of Regina met at Qu'Appelle on Wednesday July 12th. There were present a large number of ministers and several student missionaries laboring within the bounds. Mr. Campbell reported that he had presided at an election of elders at Grenfell, and Mr. McKay reported the state of the work at Whitewood requested that, as the missionary appointed to that field had arrived, he be relieved of the moderatorship of the session. Mr. McKay was thanked for his care of Whitewood and his request granted. Certificate of Mr. Muirhead's ordination by Kingston presbytery having been presented his name was added to the roll. M. being present was extended the courtesy of the house and at a later stage gave an address on the work in the distant land. An application from Canada for a loan of $200 from the C. & M. Building Fund was recommended. The following arrangements were made for the induction of Mr. Rochester, viz:—That it take place at Prince Albert on Aug. 9th. Mr. Carmichael preside and address the minister, Mr. Clay the people and Mr. Lewis preach. It was also agreed that Mr. McKenchie be ordained at Canadale on the 25th inst. and that Mr. Carmichael preside and address the minister, Mr. Robson the people and Mr. Clay preach. The following minute in reference to Mr. Douglas' resignation was ordered to be recorded: "The Presbytery in accepting the resignation of Mr. Douglas feels that it is losing one of its most valuable members. By his kindness and unvarying courtesy he has won the esteem and respect of all his brethren. His comprehensive knowledge of the great doctrines of grace and through sympathy with them his power of expressing the most profound truth in language at once simple and attractive made him a preacher interesting and attractive to all classes. A workman who needeth not to be ashamed. Under his pastorate Moosomin congregation became self-sustaining and was blessed each year by large additions to its membership. Our earnest prayer for him is that his health may soon be completely restored and that he may enjoy many years of happy and successful work in the cause which he loves so well and to which he has devoted himself."

Arrangements were made for visiting by deputation the following mission fields:—Lanadown, Green Valley, Colleton and Estevan and for the dispensing of ordinances in all the fields within the bounds. In the matter of arrears claimed by Mr. Richardson late missionary at Broadview it appeared from the books and vouchers of this congregation that $35 was still due which amount the Congregation was instructed to pay. A conference on Helps and Hindrances in Christian Work was held and after a cordial vote of thanks to the people of Qu'Appelle the Presbytery adjourned to meet at Broadview on the second Wednesday of September at 3 o'clock p. m.

Fortify Against Cholera.

Now that we are threatened with cholera in Canada, every person should for the sake of their city or country, as well as themselves, take every precaution against this terrible disease. It is a well-known fact that when the blood is in a healthy state, and the impurities filtered therefrom by the kidneys, the organs nature has provided for the purpose, that there is little fear of this or any other scourge that may come. The spring is the time when all should attend to this important duty and all are reminded that there is nothing known to medical science that will do the work so effectually as Dodd's Kidney Pills. Every person, sick or well, should take some of these pills in the spring and thus fortify themselves against disease.

A Picnic On a Farm

In a sequestered, wooded spot, by a cooling stream—a very pleasant contemplation this for city folk. They wonder why it is that the farmer does not more frequently go picnicking—why he does not get more enjoyment out of life. They do not realize that the now-a-days farmer finds enjoyment in his work.

The McCormick Machine of Steel is one of the modern pleasure-inviting acquisitions of the farmer. It is such a handy machine and so reliable in its performances that the old-time crop of harvest is done away with. The makers of the McCormick get many of their ideas from the farmers and crystallize them into practical working mechanisms. You can O. K. the hints you get from the practical farmers—perhaps that's why the practical farmers O. K. the "Machine of Steel"—It's made to meet their needs. The McCormick Catalogue is invaluable to the farmer after improved harvesting machines. McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. CHICAGO, ILL. C. A. GASS, Agent.

The Pleasures Of Toil are unknown to many thousands in the world's grand army of toilers. It's because so few of them labor with their heads as well as with their hands. Thinking pays; ideas are so much capital.

What are your ideas about grass-cutters? You've heard about

The McCormick No. 4 Steel Mower

It's an ideal machine. There are more good ideas about its construction than can be found in any other mower. Probably that's why its sales are so enormous. It has the best foot-life to be found on any mower; is fitted with the McCormick cold rolled spring bar, and will stand the severest tests possible to a grass-cutter. Guaranteed to work where others fail.

It's a light draft mower, and it's durable. It's an easy winner of field trials. It's a really valuable mower in more ways than can be enumerated here—and it costs but little more than a "cheap" machine. The Illustrated McCormick Catalogue shows the special merits of this mower. We furnish it—so do our agents. McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. CHICAGO, ILL. C. A. GASS, Agent.
